ALUMNI NEWS / BRYAN COLLEGE / DAYTON, TENNESSEE

ALUMNI WEEKEND DRAWS 150 GUESTS

The third annual Alumni Weekend, held on campus July 19-21, set another attendance record and sustained its vibrant spirit of reunion and Christian fellowship.

The Weekend's ninety alumni and their families enjoyed a picnic on the Triangle, ice cream in the Lions Den, faculty-led seminars in Rudd Chapel, and class reunion gatherings for the four ten-year anniversary classes.

The class of '45 had the highest percentage of graduates on hand, with five out of their eight present. The class of '75 had the largest number with 32 members plus their spouses and families.

While only eight members of the class of '65 were present, Eugene Bengtson, president of that class, led all alumni in our Saturday evening devotional time. Also during this session, movies were shown that were made at Bryan in 1942 and 1949. Even the "youngsters" from the class of '75 enjoyed these early pictures of life at Bryan.

Fifteen members of the class of '55 were here and had a special Saturday evening reunion gathering off-campus at the home of Stu '56 and Velma (Nothnagel) x'57 Meissner. With their families and friends from other 50's classes, the group comprised 43 people.

The grandest gathering of the Weekend was the Saturday Faculty-Alumni Luncheon, which was attended by 178 alumni, faculty, and families of both groups. The crowd was greeted by Dr. Ted Mercer, who updated those present on the Presidential search and fiscal outlook for this year. A rare portrait of William Jennings Bryan was presented to the college by alumni Ron '52 and Gladys (Jennewin) '50 Meznar. Alumni President Larry Puckett '73 addressed the group, challenging alumni to even broader support of the college as he congratulated them on this year's award-qualifying financial contributions of $149,000 to Bryan.

The sentiments of all alumni who were here this summer are expressed in the following letter we received from a 1975 graduate:

Dear Steve, Barbara, and Executive Committee:

I wanted to tell you again how much my family and I enjoyed our weekend at Bryan. It was such fun to see so many good old folks again.

As I walked around the campus with our children, so many memories of 10-14 years ago came to mind, and I further realized God's sovereignty in my life and its circumstances while I was at Bryan. I praise Him for my happy, fulfilling college days.

Reminiscing in the fourth floor lounge in the new dorm where we testified of the Lord's dealings in our lives over the past 10 years with other '75ers was the most special time of my reunion. The Lord had taken us all over rough roads as well as smooth places, yet each of us spoke of His faithfulness and His goodness in our lives. How exciting it was to hear of how others had gone on for the Lord and were being used of Him in so many places.

I had looked forward to the reunion for a long time and was so very pleased. Thank you all for helping to make it such a happy time.

Alumni Weekend was climaxed by a stirring message of admonition to us all by Mickey Park '55 graduate and member of Bryan's Board of Trustees, and pastor of Shades Mountain Bible Church in Birmingham, Alabama. The brief Sunday morning service was held in Rudd Auditorium.

The fourth annual Alumni Weekend will be held July 18-20, 1986. Members of the ten-year classes '46, '56, '66, and '76 should be especially watchful this year for news of their class reunions to be held at that time.

1985 BIBLE CONFERENCE

"The fellowship with other believers was like a little of heaven. Everyone cared about everyone else there." This was a comment we received from one Bible conference guest two weeks after the event was over. Another wrote, "We thoroughly enjoyed it. The accommodations were deluxe, the food excellent, and the messages inspiring."

More people attended the Summer Family Bible Conference in 1985 than in any other summer in its 21-year history.

Guests expressed their heartiest approval of the all-alumni program leaders. Dr. Cary Perdue '58 and David C. Egner '61 were the featured speakers. Perdue, who recently completed a term as Director of the International Council on Biblical Inerrancy (ICBI), delivered four timely messages on the deity of Christ. David Egner, editor at Radio Bible Class and contributor to the widely used "Our Daily Bread" devotional guide, spoke on Christ's prayerfulness, thankfulness, anger, and patience—human qualities of Jesus.

From Monday through Friday a full program of Bible study and healthy afternoon recreation was directed by alumni couple, Charles '79 and Sharon (Woychuk) '81

Bible conference guests through the dining hall.

Goodman for the twenty-five teenagers attending the Conference. After studying all week, the young people enjoyed an outing to the Ocoee River for a Friday afternoon of white water rafting.

Dale '60 and Lorey (Pembleton) x'62 Comstock, better known as the Dalorey Puppeteers, held the attention of over thirty grade school children with Bible lessons, songs, and excellent use of puppetry in illustrating Biblical truths.

Full nursery supervision was provided for the dozen pre-school children.

Family recreational activities were held three of the four afternoons. On Tuesday, 135 of our conference guests enjoyed a smorgasbord lunch at Cumberland Mountain State Park, followed by an afternoon of swimming, boating, and hiking. On Thursday 25 guests journeyed to the "Lost Sea," caverns and underground lake, and on Friday 60 of us went river rafting. Others remaining on campus enjoyed tennis, volleyball, or table games in the Lions' Den, or just rested.

At a very festive ice cream social on Friday night, we said our reluctant good-byes.

Conference guests were asked to evaluate the week's activities, which are annually held at Bryan the third week of July. Virtually all categories—accommodations, food, music, messages, children's programs—were rated excellent with the exception of the category of advance publicity - so we're working on that.

1986 BIBLE CONFERENCE

Bryan's 22nd Annual Bible Conference will be held July 21-25, 1986. Featured speakers will be Rev. John Oliver, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Augusta, and Dr. William E. Brown, Bryan Bible professor and 1985 Teacher of the Year. Children's activities will be conducted by Dale and Lorey Comstock and youth directors will be Charles and Sharon Goodman.

Alumni Authors: Repeaters and Rookies

Sometimes it seems that certain kinds of news comes in bunches. In August we have more alumni weddings to print in Bryanette. This is understandable because June is the traditionally popular matrimonial month. June is also the month for news of graduate degrees earned by our alumni. This is understandable because springtime is graduation time at most graduate schools.

But this news came from different directions throughout the first part of this year. Some of it came from a reunion questionnaire, some from a Radio Bible Class publication, some from the Christian College Coalition News, and some from right here on Bryan's campus. This news isn't explained by the season of the year, but it is not unusual to hear of Bryan graduates excelling in their vocations any time of year. It just happened that the first part of this year brought us news of a variety of alumni authors, from three of Bryan's early graduates to two of the latest.

News of three of these alumni authors has been carried in previous issues of Bryanette and Bryan Life, but it is presented here because of their latest publications, all very scholarly achievements. Because they have had works published over a period of years, we'll call them repeaters.

Howard C. Kee '40

Our first alumni author in the spotlight is Dr. Howard Clark Kee '40, who is the William Goodwin Aurelio Professor of Biblical Studies and professor of New Testament in Boston University's School of Theology. He is also chairman of the graduate division of religious studies, and he was given the Boston University Scholar/Teacher of the Year award for 1984.

Dr. Kee's book, Miracle in the Early Christian World, Yale University Press, 1983, was selected by the History Book Club. His latest book, published in 1984, is The New Testament In Context: Sources and Documents (Prentice-Hall.) These two works bring to twelve the number of books Dr. Kee has brought out, beginning in 1957 with Making Ethical Decisions (Westminster Press).

Other books written by Dr. Kee are Jesus and God's New People: The Four Gospels (Westminster, 1959); Understanding the New Testament (Prentice-Hall, 1957, 1958, 1973, 1983); The Origins of Christianity: Sources and Documents (Prentice-Hall, 1973, 1980); Jesus in History: An Approach to the Study of the Gospels (Harcourt, Brace and World, 1970, 1977); Introduction to the New Testament (Abingdon Press, 1975); and Pentecost (Fortress Press, 1974, 1980).

Strength in the Storm

The lessons we learn in the storms of life
Are given to us as a balm.
God never forsakes, nor leaves us alone.
He changes our crises to calm.
At times when our life is peaceful and still,
We don't learn the lessons we might,
We don't cling to the Lord as we should,
Since everything's "sweetness and light".

When our life is filled with tempests and fears,
And our Lord with power stills the sea,
We learn God Almighty the tempests can calm,
And from all our fears set us free!
He walks on the water, rebukes the wind,
And proves He is able to save!
The seas that would drown us, God dominates.
He helps us to walk on the wave!

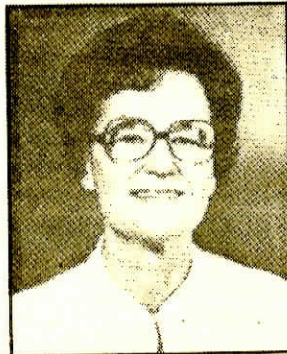

Some of life's terrible storms our God stills;
But some of the worst storms He stirs!
For part of God's plans are best carried out
When churning and stirring occurs!
We need to see, as did Jonah one day:
On the storm, God's purpose may ride.
Like Paul, when the tempest continues to rage,
We're safe, for in Christ we abide!

Lord of my life, calm the tempests that rage,
As you calmed the waves of the sea.
Yet, if I must weather storms in my life,
Then, Lord, give your calmness to me!
Alone, I've no power to walk on life's seas.
In myself, I'm unable to stand.
But, walking with Christ through the storms of life,
I'm strengthened by God's mighty hand!

-Charles Willoughby '56

While he was a student at Bryan, Howard participated in Forensics and Gospel Messengers, serving as piano accompanist on a summer tour. His musical talents became most evident in the publication of his composition, New Land, New Covenant, for chorus of mixed voices, organ, and small orchestra (C. Fisher, 1976).

Asked what he remembered most about Bryan, Howard's reply was, "Learning to understand and experience the grace of God in Jesus Christ." After graduating from Bryan, Kee earned his master's degree at Dallas Theological Seminary and the Ph.D. in New Testament and Christian origins from Yale University.

Beatrice E. Batson '44

Our second scholarly alumni author, Dr. Batson, earned her B.A. at Bryan, majoring in English, participating in Christian service, Debate Team, Student Council, and Forensic Union, and serving as class secretary all four years. She returned to Bryan immediately following her graduation to become English instructor. She taught at Bryan for several years and earned the M.A. at Wheaton and the Ph.D. at Peabody College before she joined the faculty at Wheaton College in 1957. She now chairs Wheaton's English department.

Dr. Batson's latest book is John Bunyan: Allegory and Imagination. The 168-page book, which sells for $26.50 (hardcover) is published in England by Croom Helm Ltd., and in the United States by Barnes and Noble. About her book Dr. Batson says, "The work demonstrates Bunyan's skill in structuring his narrative in dialogue, his various levels of meaning, his handling of the dream phenomenon, his emphasis on metaphor and memory, and shows how the allegory of the major work operates at a level of continuous metaphor."

The John Bunyan book is added to three earlier publications. Her first book, published in 1968 by Moody Press, was Christianity and the World of Thought. The second, coming out also in 1968, was A Readers' Guide to Religious Literature (Moody Press); and the third was The Christian Faith, Integrity and the Creative Process (Messiah College, 1980).

The third author spotlighted here for his recent scholarly achievement is Dr. Richard C. Cornelius '55, who has been on the English faculty at Bryan since 1961. He earned his M.A. and Ph.D. in English at the University of Tennessee.

While he was a student at Bryan, Cornelius was on the Commoner staff and the Christian Service Association

Richard M. Cornelius '55

(today's PCI). And like Howard Kee and Beatrice Batson, Dick participated in forensics.

Dr. Cornelius's book, Christopher Marlowe's Use of the Bible, was published in 1984 by Peter Lang, New York. The 329-page book is Volume 23 in the American University Studies Series 4, English Language and Literature. It sells for $32 hardback, but may be purchased at a discount through Cornelius at $25.50 plus $1 for postage.

Surveying the complete writings of the greatest English dramatist before Shakespeare, the book examines more than 1500 Biblical references that Marlowe makes and explores their relationships to the meanings of his works and beliefs. It contains the sources of Marlowe's knowledge of Biblical materials, repeated Biblical themes, concepts, and phrases in Marlowe's works and an annotated appendix of Biblical references.

Dick Cornelius has had several articles published, beginning in 1965 with a devotional in Christian Home Digest. His article, "A New Look at the Scopes Evolution Trial" was published in the Summer 1981 issue of The Tennessee Historical Quarterly.

Dr. Cornelius has been chairman of the English department thirteen years of his twenty-four-year tenure on Bryan's faculty.

Ann Egner '84

Dottie Long '84

The two rookie writers are Ann Egner and Dottie Long, both of whom are 1984 graduates. Like their mentor, Dr. Cornelius, they both majored in English at Bryan. Dottie was active in public school ministry and was a resident assistant. Ann graduated magna cum laude.

Both Long and Egner had their articles published in the Spring 1985 issue of Radio Bible Class's Discovery Digest. Miss Long's article, "The Trials of Transition," deals with the believer's adjustment to life's changes, as does Miss Egner's article, "He Doesn't Change."

Dottie Long's "four truths about God" in her "Trials of Transition" summarizes what every Bryan graduate has either learned as a student or is learning now as an alumnus: "God is sovereign. God not only knows all, He owns all. God gives grace when I need it. God has prepared me for my future in all of my past."

Dr. Cornelius keeps a list of all Bryan alumni authors of periodicals, books, business publications, and musical compositions which he uses in his expository writing class. Anyone reading this article who has had their work published recently, or who knows of another Bryan alumnus/alumna who has been published is urged to send the information to the alumni office or to Dr. Cornelius.

Campus Visitors

Dan '73 and Linda (Howard) '73 Speichinger with Nathan, Renae, Nolan and Kristin.

Randy '69 and Pat (Nelms) x'71 Travis with Andrea, Alison and Amy.

Bruce '81 and Mary Harrison.

Phil x'78 and Katie Harris with Anthony.

Class Notes 40's

Lawrence (Bud) Levengood x '42 brought guests to visit the campus on June 24. Pictured here is Bud with his friends from Ohio.

Alice (Northrup) '45 and George '48 Birch are on furlough from their missionary/teacher responsibilities at Jamaica Bible Institute. They have two children—Nancy and John—who each have four children to provide the grandparents with five granddaughters and three grandsons. They are making headquarters with their daughter and family, Nancy (Birch) '70 and Mark '72 Longnecker in Chattanooga, Tennessee.

Constance Morgan x '45 is a teacher in a Christian School in West Columbia, S.C. She has a variety of church responsibilities and is State Education Director for Women's Christian Temperance Union. She has earned her M.R.E. from Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary.

Gwen (Hay) Wyllie '45 and Albert Wyllie '44 spent fifteen years with Sudan Interior Mission (of which Gwen's brother, Ian Hay, is currently Director.) After Al graduated from Columbia Seminary in Decatur, Georgia, he pastored a church in Williamston, South Carolina, for 5 years. Nine years ago they moved back to New Orleans and have worked at the Canal Street Presbyterian Church ever since—Al as a pastor, Gwen as a teacher, office manager, executive secretary. Gwen is currently working on the first draft of a book which has evolved out of a teaching ministry she has had for eight years. They have three children—Dr. Diana (Wyllie) Rigden '68 writer and advertiser for Enertronics, Inc. of St. Louis and the wife of a Professor of Physics at the University of St. Louis; John Finlay Wyllie '72, an artist, sculptor, computer person, distribution manager of Enertronics, Inc., St. Louis and a part-time seminary student; and Gregg Richard Wyllie, their "special" son who attends a school within easy driving distance of them.

Alma (Austin) Lawson '51 with her husband, Lewis, stopped by on their way to Maine. The Lawsons live in Dallas.

Glenn '52 and Marjorie Crumley have been appointed to return to Zaire, Africa, with the Missionary Assistance Corps of the Conservative Baptist Foreign Mission Society. They plan to return as soon as funds are available for their transportation.

Norma Sweeney '53 noted in March the 30th anniversary of her arrival in Brazil as she neared the completion of her U.S. furlough. She returned to Sao Paulo in June to find work on the new Child Evangelism Fellowship National Office continuing. Thirty students attended the Leadership Training Institute this year in Brazil and completed the course in April.

Donald '54 and Jean Roberts are starting their tenth year at the Bible Mennonite Brethren Church in Cordell, Oklahoma, with Don as pastor. They are finishing a new addition to the church and have a large Awana Club in their group.

'55 Reunion

Ed '55 and Barbara (Borling) '55 Amstutz moved in July to Annandale, Virginia. Ed has accepted the position of principal at the Cherrydale Christian School in Washington, D.C. area. He recently completed several years as business manager of Lexington Christian Academy in Massachusetts.

Seymour Ashley '55 who with his wife, Lois x '56, has been living and working on Bible translation in Phoenix, Arizona, has delivered the Tausug New Testament to the Dallas Printing Arts Department at the Dallas International Wycliffe Center. As soon as the typesetting is finished and negatives can be made, Seymour will carry them to Manila to be printed by the Shangkuan press. By way of computer interface provided by JAARS, they plan to publish the Tausug New Testament in a separate Arabic script edition. Seymour went to their former location of Jolo in the Philippines and hopes to help distribute the New Testament among Muslim friends. The Ashleys are pictured with their youngest son, Judson.

Jean (McKee) '55 and Max '54 Dunlap live in Liberty, Kentucky, on a farm. Their youngest child, Caleb, "lives in heaven." The other seven children are Silas, 29; Luke, 27; Hannah, 25; Amos, 22; Phebe, 19; Nathan, 18; and Lois, 11. The Dunlaps maintain a home fellowship and are active in prison correspondence and visitation ministry. Jean and Max visited Bryan this summer in June.

Mary Roselyn (Hall) Lee '55 and her husband, Carl, live in Madisonville, Tennessee. Mary is a homemaker and also bookkeeper for the family and their farm. The Lees are active in the First Baptist Church.

G. E. "Bud" Hamilton x '55 and his wife live in Overland Park, Kansas, where Bud is financial specialist in the department of Health and Human Services. The Hamiltons attend the Hillcrest Evangelical Covenant Church. Bud attended Alumni Weekend.

William D. x '55 and Lois (Gordon) Lanning x '55 live in Arlington, Virginia. They have three children—Marcia, Betsy and David. Bill is Division Chief of the Defense Intelligence Agency at the Pentagon. They are affiliated with the Cherrydale Baptist Church where Bill is Missions Chairman and Deacon.

Mary (Barth) Lehnhart '55 is an office manager and bookkeeper for Design Business Forms. She and Bob '54 live in Orange, California, and are affiliated with a Presbyterian church. Their children are Kathy March, Gary and Ron Lehnhart.

David Lunney '55 is pastor of the Court Street Baptist Church in Port Huron, Michigan. He and his wife, Norma, have two children, Susan and Paul. David holds the M. Div. from Grace Theological Seminary.

Richard Mason '55 is chaplain and assistant to the director at Starr Commonwealth Schools, a residential treatment center for delinquent boys in Van Wert, Ohio. He and Naomi have four children.

Melba (Mays) Maynard '55 is a Recruiter and Follow-up Specialist in Adult Education. She teaches a class of 20 emotionally disturbed adults and is Testor for GED and Nursing Assistants in Osceola County School System. She is affiliated with a small Methodist church where her husband, Ralph, '54 is pastor. They have three children—Timothy Ralph, Grady Robert, and Dwight Eric—and reside in Kissimmee, Florida.

Robert C. '55 and Janet (Divil) '56 Miller live in New Cumberland, Pennsylvania. Bob is branch manager for Lance Inc. (Snack Food Co. of Charlotte, N.C.). The Millers are active in the New Life Baptist Church and Bob shares as choir director and song leader, visitation coordinator, supply preacher, and E.T.T.A. course teacher. Their children are Kenneth, 26; Lori, 25; Anita, 22; Gordon, 20; Erin, 8.

Mary (Ogden) x '55 and Frank Oakley live in Grand Rapids, Michigan. They have three adopted children and six grandchildren—"all beautiful." Mary is a homemaker and part-time employee of Banner Linen Service. She and Frank are active at Calvary Baptist Church, and Mary is a Pioneer Girls Pal and also a pal to a 93-year-old lady at Michigan Christian Home.

Dale '54 and Martha (Sheffield) '55 Payne welcomed their daughter, Sharon, on February 28 to join them in their missionary ministry in Sao Paulo, Brazil, under Association of Baptists for World Evangelism. They are also rejoicing in the completion of a new church building.

David Miner Stearns '55 is affiliated with American Rescue Workers as captain and minister. He and Katharine are affiliated with Marcus Hook Baptist Church in Linwood, Pennsylvania, and live in Wilmington, Delaware.

Gaynell (Cobble) '55 and James Stewart live in Sharpsburg, Georgia, where James is pastor of College Heights Baptist Church. Gaynell earned the Doctor of Religious Education degree at Immanuel Bible College. She is a Bible teacher at Immanuel and special education teacher with Fulton County schools. She holds an office in the local Council of Exceptional Children and received a Distinguished Christian Service Award in 1982. The Stewarts have six children—one son and five daughters.

Roger and Naomi (Hildbrand) '55 Walkwitz are glad to hear from their BIBAK members who are scattered to Montreal, Hong Kong, Singapore, Saudi Arabia, and London as well as in their home area of the Philippines. One girl member working in Hong Kong is also a missionary to 20,000 Filipinos working there. She uses Sunday afternoon for Bible study/fellowship in a central location and also visits and telephones others in her area. Fred, from Kalinga, is teaching a small group of believers in his home area. Julia has been teaching high school in her tribal area for several years, winning and discipline students. BIBAK's 7th Annual Missions Conference was completed with a renewed determination to get the Gospel back into the tribal regions.

Fred and Delores (Yockey) '56 Plastow took a short leave from Malaga, Spain, to spend three weeks with their family in Indiana during July to visit their daughter and meet twin grandsons born in May and also to attend their daughter Sheryl's marriage on July 20. The Plastows are seeing real interest in the Word with over 2,000 new students enrolled for correspondence lessons since the beginning of 1985 through the Malaga Media Center, as sponsored by the Gospel Missionary Union.

Ted and Shirley (Smiley) '57 Klingsmith remind us of their "home missionary" status as they have ministered for the past 19 years through the Denver Christian Servicemen's Center in Aurora, Colorado. The Center houses the Klingsmith family and has a fellowship area for Bible study, games and meals. The Klingsmith family includes three married children and two younger daughters. They are pictured left to right—Scott (son) and Carol Klingsmith, Barbara and Ron Larson, Shirley and Ted, Debbie, Gaylenn and Gentry Gardner, and Janell.

Frank Russell '57, dean of education at Oak Hills Bible Institute, has recently done a study of the history of the school and will be involved as coordinator for the process of seeking accreditation for the school. In June, Frank and Thelma traveled to Yukon to visit their daughter and family and then went on to Fairbanks and Anchorage, Alaska, to visit Oak Hills alumni. In August Frank was scheduled to supervise the Alumni Treat Week when volunteer alumni help with care and maintenance of Oak Hills facilities.

Jack '58 and Norma Canady have been serving with Village Missions in home mission work for 27 years. The last six years Jack has been district representative for the eastern part of the U.S. and Canada. Two of the Canadys' four children are in Village Mission service and the other two are training for the ministry.

'65 Reunion

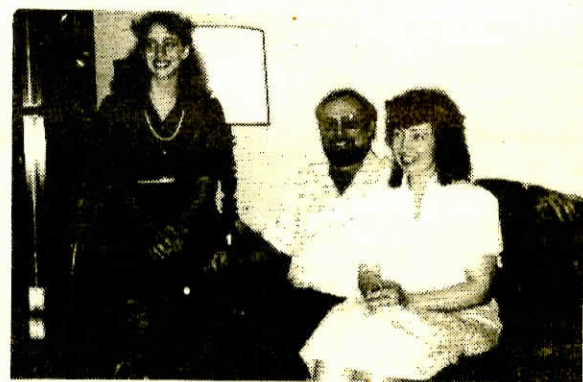

Eugene '65 and Yetta Bengtson continue their ministry and residence in Sebring, Florida, with their four daughters—Kari Beth, 18; Stephanie Lyn, 16; Julie Ann, 14; and Susan Gale, 12. Eugene has been pastor of the Bible Fellowship Church since May 1974 and recently earned the D.Min. from Luther Rice Seminary.

Christine (Dettra) '65 and David x'67 Billings make their home in Richmond, Virginia, with their five children—Cheryl, 18; Joyce, 16; Loretta, 13; Timothy, 10; and Monica, 4. The family attends the Immanuel Baptist Church and Chris is on the Sunday school nursery staff. She is also employed at home as head of interviewers for Trendex Market Research Co. in the Richmond area.

Robert '65 and Robin (Seaver) '65 Crane are missionaries under SEND, International, in Tok, Alaska, where Bob is pastor of the Tok Bible chapel. They have three children—Ken, 18; Naomi, 17; and Marci, 12. They have been ministering in Alaska since the fall of 1965.

Judie (Scott) '65 and Wilmer Dursteller with their three-year-old adopted son, Michael John, live in Santa Ana, California. They are active in Calvary Church—Judie as women's Bible study helper with two year olds and member of the handbell choir, and Wilmer as an organist.

Sarah (McDonald) '65 and John x'73 Edwards with their three children—Edward, 18; John, 16; and Emily 11—live in Zanesville, Ohio. They attend Maranatha Bible Church and Sarah is a teacher at Zanesville Christian School.

Lamar '65 and Diane (deRosset) '64 Hardin live in Oliver Springs, Tennessee, where Lamar continues teaching in the local school system. Their daughter, Julie, plans to return to Bryan this fall for her second year.

Hope (Warwick) '65 and Tom Harley reside in Goshen, Indiana, with their twin daughters, Sharyn Ruth and Brenda Elizabeth, who were five in August. Hope is occupied with her home duties and is affiliated with a Mennonite church.

Alumni Director, Steve Snyder, gives the ever present announcements while John Quimby '45 and Bea (Morgan) Michalski '45 listen attentively.

Having a will is saying,

"I Care."

Your will is a bridge of love reaching into the future. It's a testimony to the world of all that's important to you—your family, friends, and the Lord's work.

If you don't have a will . . .

- What will happen to your estate?
- Who will get what you leave behind?
- Who will take care of your family?
- Who will look after your minor children?
- Who will manage your business and financial affairs?
- What will happen to your plans to leave a bequest to the Lord's work?

To help you answer the above questions and prepare your will, you may write for these informative booklets free of charge:
